John Benson was an incredibly intelligent man with a magnetic personality to match. John was somehow both a numbers guy, and a very talented artist. His sense of humor was unmatched along with his headstrong determination, and unyielding wit. John spent his well deserved retirement sitting by his much loved pool, usually accompanied by a cat or two. One could always find him triumphantly gazing over his domain; with a crossword puzzle in one hand, and a scratch-off ticket in the other. John made his departure the same way he lived his life: on his terms. He is survived by his mother; Carmela Zorda Nichols; wife, Sarah G. Benson; daughter, Lindsey Anne Benson; his beloved granddaughter, Olivia Sage. She was the light of his life, and will miss terrorizing her Papa greatly.- Lindsey Benson, daughter of John Benson.

I am Johnny's Aunt Linda. I remember at a very young age Johnny was very independent. He fixed his own breakfast at a young age. My Mother adored him and his sister. She babysat often with them. I was proud of his work ethics and his faithfulness to his marriage and daughter. He was a very bright man. I think he thought I was nutty but later respected my faith. God rest his soul.

I have seen it on the Skyway Memorial website. It was nice. I wanted to write something but was having a hard time. I can be very sentimental, but I find myself also joking a little, my way of coping with things that make me sad. So my best memories is when I first came to your house for your wonderful bloody Mary's, and John made hors d' oeuvre. He did that for quite a while. It was always a treat 😊. I may not have known him as well as some, but he was always friendly and had some interesting stories. Glad to have met and known you John! Thank you for your wonderful wife, who is my great friend. Guess I just wrote one. All for just you Sarah. ❤️ No crying!! There's no crying in baseball. I sure hope you know what movie that came from.
