I am wondering what computer software you folk use to produce WP headers?. I've used MS Paint in the past but it's not extremely flexible and does not produce incredibly excellent outcomes. As I've dodgy eyesight I would like to find some software program that works well (on Windows 7) and can be installed on any future pc without the need of having to (laboriously) learn a brand new interface each time. I have tried Gimp but wow I find it challenging !. What exactly is the best graphics software to go for which is cost-free ?!?. Any thoughts gratefully accepted.##imported-begin##Mako##imported-end##
